

Designed for Fire Service Personnel Desiring Chief-Level Training

This FREE ONE DAY educational program is designed just for you.

The Indiana Fire Chief's Association in partnership with the Indiana State Fire Marshal and the Indiana Department of Homeland Security Division of Training have collaborated to continue to improve and present this Chief Officers educational program. This training is also supported by the Indiana Volunteer Firefighters Association, Inc. and the Professional Firefighter Union of Indiana.

This program is designed to assist you in being able to perform your job better and more effective.

This program is geared for the chief that has just been promoted, has been there for a while and has some questions, or the chief that just wants to do things better. This program is for career and volunteer Chief Officers or fire service professionals wanting additional training for chief level positions.

This program will be offered 5 times during the months of March and April 2007.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the cost?

There is NO CHARGE for the training.

Travel expenses are each individual's responsibility.

Who Should Attend?

Every Fire Chief, Assistant Chief, Deputy Chief and other Chief Officers should attend. Individuals wishing to plan for advancement in their careers should attend. The information is applicable in small and large departments. The material will cover issues important to department staffed with volunteers, combination or fully career.

Why Was This Course Developed?

Seeing the need to more adequately prepare chiefs for the job they perform day in and day out a committee of practioners were put together. These active Chief Officers discussed the issues that create challenges for them and gathered information and developed it into a presentation format.

As chiefs, we all have specific tools that we need to do our job successfully.

We hope to supply you with a couple of screw drivers and some pliers!

Where am I going?

This program will be presented in five locations around the state. All of the five seminars will be offered on a Saturday to accommodate both volunteer and career officers.

The program was designed by "active chief officers" who are engaged daily in operating their departments.

What do I get when I am done?

Other than a wealth of knowledge, if you are not already a member of the Indiana State Fire Chief's Association, you will receive a one year membership for FREE!!!!

How do I register?

You must register through the Indiana Fire Chief's Association. You may register by phone, fax, or online.
